

Uwe Möller

Political economist, former Director of HAUS RISSEN – International Institute for Politics and Economics in Hamburg, an independent platform and training centre for future studies on global affairs. Already in the late fifties during the predominance of Cold War the institute “discovered” the importance of the upcoming “North-South-Gap”. Its future-orientation led to a close collaboration with THE CLUB OF ROME, founded in 1968. Becoming its member in 1986, an appointment as Secretary General followed from 1998 to 2007 under the Presidency of HRH Prince Hassan of Jordan.

Present activities, mainly within the German Association of THE CLUB OF ROME, one of the 30 National Associations world-wide, founded 1978 in Hamburg, are focussing on following projects:

- DESERTEC - Clean Power from Deserts www.DESERTEC.org
- Global Marshall Plan Initiative - The Need for a Global Eco-Social Economy www.globalmarshallplan.org
- Plant-for-the-Planet – Trees for Climate Justice - An International Children´s Network www.plant-for-the-planet.org
- CLUB OF ROME School-Network in Germany www.clubofrome.de
